It's all about attitude :)

- This workshop is a laboratory.
 - There is no wrong answer
 - It is safe to speak your mind
- Creativity comes from diversity and freedom
- Kindness and openness are the foundation of cooperation

So you know

We are here to inspire a collective effort to integrate climate change adaptation in nature conservation practice and the other way around

Concretely, we talk about...

Climate change adaptation methodology for Protected Area managers

Vulnerability assessments

Adaptation measures

Capacity building

Online courses

Collaborative community & digital platform

European Task Force on climate change and protected areas

Policy and public engagement work

Tools and best practices

CASE STUDY

Dynamic dune management for nature conservation & climate change adaptation

Myrthe Fonck, Senior Ecology Advisor, PWN

WORKSHOP

Collective & creative thinking

RNN La Massane, France

An idea to take away

These ideas are the result of the work of the EUROPARC Task Force on Climate Change

To be continued ...

*“By protecting what nature is left,
restoring what is degraded and connecting what is fragmented, Protected Areas will actively contribute to bringing back the adaptive capacity of communities and territories in the face of climate change.”*

A photograph of a dense forest with tall, moss-covered tree trunks and fallen branches. The ground is covered in ferns and moss. The lighting is soft, suggesting a shaded forest environment.
